Let's Be Practical

Scenario: You have a two car household and a two car garage, but both vehicles are parked in the driveway. Your once glistening paint job is growing dull from exposure to the sun and the dings and dents from the hail damage are starting to add up. To top it off, you just noticed a long scratch mark from one of the kids' bicycles.

Let's be practical. You would love to park your vehicles inside the safe haven of your nice, clean garage, but that just isn't possible with all of the stuff you've crammed in there. This last scratch has you standing in the doorway to the garage staring at all of the stuff. Bicycles lay haphazardly all around the garage floor. There are boxes of holiday decorations stacked four high and three deep. One of them is sagging, just waiting for the perfect moment to topple over. The youngest child's riding toys are mixed in with the bicycles, while the balls, bats and helmets are a jumbled mess inside the large plastic trash bin in the middle of the floor. We won't even get started on how difficult it is to find your tools when you need them.

Most of the items need to be easily accessible, so the basement or attic is off limits. As for the holiday decorations, you still cringe at the memories of trying to remove the multitude of boxes from the attic last year. There is no way you are going to try to move those large boxes up and down the rickety, narrow attic steps.

Solution: Put your mind at ease. We can help get all of that clutter off the floor, organized and easily accessible. Our patented Monkey Bars organizational system is custom designed just for you. Our helpful staff will evaluate your space in order to create the most efficient storage system possible. You may not need as much storage space as you think you do.

Monkey Bars organizational system is designed for strength and efficiency. Every four feet of shelving holds one thousand pounds of weight. Picture that: Four feet can hold the weight of five grown men. That's crazy! That's so much more strength than you'll ever need, but we like to be over-the-top.

Adjustable bars and hooks allow you to change your system as your needs change. The main shelves can be used for seasonal items, like all those holiday decorations, while the hooks and drop down shelving offer easy access to tools, bicycles, or your ladder. Your system is limited only to your imagination.

Being practical means having an organized, tidy garage and not spending a ridiculous amount of money to accomplish this. Monkey Bars organizational system costs less than half of the price of storage cabinets. (Not to mention, storage cabinets waste a large amount of space). Monkey

Bars are made out of sturdy, high quality steel and coated with a moisture resistant powder-coat finish that gives it a sleek, modern look.

We believe in the durability and strength of our product so much that we offer a lifetime warranty. We have yet to find it necessary to replace any of our systems, however we give you, our customer, the peace of mind of an iron clad guarantee. We will gladly replace any failed parts for a lifetime. Are you ready to park that vehicle in the garage now? Call us today and get ready to uncover your garage floor!

First Steps to Garage Organization

You've done it! You've finally taken that step towards an uncluttered garage by purchasing a Monkey Bars garage shelving and storage system. It's installed, beautiful and ready to be filled with all of your garage items. Wait! Before you start piling everything up on your newly found space, let's take a crash course in organization.

Items You'll Need for Optimum Organization

If you are really serious about an uncluttered garage, it's going to take a bit more effort on your part than just moving items from the floor to the shelves. Now that you have this golden opportunity, don't let it get away. Get all the gear you'll need for a day of real organizing!

First, you'll need some sturdy totes, boxes and possibly some smaller see-thru containers. A pack of white labeling stickers and a magic marker should be part of your organizational weaponry as well. Last, you'll need a large garbage can (or possibly two) for the items you'll be discarding.

Once you've gathered these items, you'll need to put on your ruthless attitude and get to work. As you begin to uncover things that you 'might need someday,' don't fall for it. You don't need that 1/4 bag of dark brown grout or the set of mismatched golf clubs your Uncle Fred gave you when he was cleaning out his garage. Remember...ruthless! Throw the grout away and give the golf clubs to your local Goodwill. Or how about a garage sale. That can put some extra cash in your pocket.

Now it's Time to Sort and Label

Once you've set aside or disposed of the unwanted items, it's time to get those totes, bins, and boxes open and ready to be filled.

Separate into piles:

- Tools
- Holiday items
- Rarely used items
- Toys
- Sporting equipment
- Car care supplies and cleaners

You get the idea. Once you've separated everything, you can start placing the items into appropriate totes and clearly labeling them.

Storing High/Storing Low

Use the high and out of the way shelves for yearly items, such as holiday decor and rarely used items such as keepsakes.

Building downward, you'll end up with the most accessible items, such as tools and car care supplies on the bottom shelves. With the Monkey Bar garage shelving and storage system you don't have to resort to boxes and totes for everything either. Tools can be hung conveniently within reach.

The Monkey Bar organizational system is the ultimate way to reclaim your garage space. With the sturdiest and most versatile equipment available, you will have easy access to bikes, yard tools and anything else you use on a regular basis. And since the Monkey Bars system has been designed for strength and efficiency--your racks, shelves and hooks will still be in place for years to come. In fact, with our iron clad lifetime warranty, the Monkey Bar system is the only one you'll ever need. That's good news!

No matter how you stack it, an organized garage is a beautiful thing!

Does your garage double as a laundry room, a mini play area for the twins, and your teen's skateboard ramp building area? If the answer is yes, then the thought of using your garage for an actual vehicle may sound like a foreign concept. Does your garage look worse and worse with each passing day? At Gorgeous Garages, we've been there, we know how you feel, and best of all--we've got you covered! Let us show you how to divide your space into mini-centers, where every member of the family can have their own little storage and work area.

Allow our specialists to create a mini-center for each and every family member. Using the Monkey Bars organizational system, we can easily design the right layout just for you. Our uniquely engineered system can create a higher shelving storage area for things that are not used often, while our lower hooks and drop down shelving easily store those everyday items. Those boxes of holiday decorations can be placed on top of the heavy steel shelves designed to hold up to 1000 pounds per four foot section. The laundry soap and fabric softener can go on the drop down shelving right above the washer and dryer. The riding toys and strollers (for the twins, remember?) neatly hang from the hooks, while your teen's ramp building supplies are safely stored away, making efficient use of the entire system. We pride ourselves in helping you make the most practical use of your space.

The Two Tiered System

Our two tiered system consists of the top level shelf , which is made up of melamine. This is a product used for its utmost strength and clean look. There are no obstructions on top of the shelving, therefore there is no wasted space. How is it held up? The Monkey Bars organizational system is secured by a triangular bracket underneath the melamine shelving.

The second level (or tier) consists of the rack system. This system is created by adding adjustable bars to the already installed triangular brackets. Adjustable hooks are then placed on the racks to hang anything from bicycles to garden rakes. If your needs change after the system has been installed then it is a simple process to rearrange the hooks and even the bars, as needed. After all, the twins won't always need strollers.

The heavy duty steel Monkey Bars system can hold up to 5000 lbs per 24 foot section. It was designed with durability, efficiency and even cleanliness in mind. The melamine material, along with the powder coating make the Monkey Bars system easy to clean and easy on the eyes. This isn't your average, cold looking garage storage system.

No more trying to make ready-made, cheap units fit your needs either. The Monkey Bar storage and shelving system puts an end to everything about storage systems that you previously hated:

- They weren't sturdy
- They weren't rust proof
- They weren't practical and really didn't save much space
- Some prefabricated shelving units are so dangerous, your children can easily get hurt trying to reach something

All those problems are over, and as an added bonus, you just might be able to fit a car or two in the garage. That's what garages are for, remember?

The Monkey Bars system puts you in control. We create the right plan for you and back it up with a lifetime guarantee. Goodbye clutter, hello garage floor. It doesn't get any better than this.

Organizing for the Car Enthusiast

What defines a car enthusiast? You know you're a car enthusiast when most of your garage is used for storing and pimping out that old Nova while your lawn equipment is buried somewhere in a small section of the garage that never sees the light of day. If this sounds like you then let's start organizing!

As someone who adores their 'baby' it is important to have plenty of room to park your car in the garage while also allowing enough space to work on it. However, are your car accessories and tools organized to maximum efficiency? Do you ever have to stop what you're doing to conduct a twenty minute search and rescue to find that socket wrench? If so, you'll have to admit that wasting time hunting for tools takes some of the fun out of working on your baby. Maybe you have things organized in cabinets, but that doesn't leave you enough working space. Perhaps when it comes time to cut the lawn, you have to climb over a dozen things in order to even get to the lawn equipment. You're not happy, the wife isn't happy--this just isn't a win-win situation.

Don't worry, Gorgeous Garage has the solution you've been looking for. Monkey Bars organizational system is a patented engineering breakthrough. It makes the most out of your space and clears more pimping room for your car. Let our customization experts design your very own organizational system to fit your space and your particular needs.

What is the Monkey Bar Organization System?

We thought you'd never ask! The Monkey Bar system is a heavy, steel unit that consists of shelving, adjustable hooks, adjustable bars and specialized drop down shelving. Each four foot section is engineered to hold up to 1000 lbs. There are nine different types of hooks designed to hold everything except your riding lawnmower, your car and your kids. Okay, it might hold your kids, but it's not made for that, so don't try it.

Use the special large top shelves to store large car parts or other items that you won't be using on a daily basis. Drop down shelving is great for all of the small cans, bottles, filters and other supplies that you need easy access to, but won't fit on a hook. The hooks can be easily removed and switched around to suit your needs. When you've repositioned them, they simply lock back into place, with the same durability as when they were first installed.

With the Monkey Bars organizational system, there's room for all of your car's important accessories and room for your lawn equipment as well. No more diving over boxes to get to your lawn tools. Not only will your lawn care tools be more organized, they will take up less space, leaving more room for your precious car.

Each piece of the Monkey Bars organizational system is designed for durability and efficiency. It is powder coated (baked on) with an enamel type finish. This coating is guaranteed to protect the steel from mildew, rust, scratches, chipping and fading. This is a lifetime guarantee. That's right! We believe in our product so much that we guarantee it for life. Call us today and let's create a custom gorgeous garage just for you.
